

AFTER ORDEAL of plane crash and three lonely days guarding her injured sister, 6-year-old Julie Clark, holds coffee cup in helicopter after her rescue.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL in stretcher from the mountain site of the plane crash which killed her parents is Laurie Clark, 8, who survived with the help of her little sister. She is in a San Bernardino hospital recovering from her injuries.

FOUND BY GRANDFATHER

Girl Recounts Story of Plane Crash Survival

BIG BEAR, Calif. (UPI)—"They may still be alive."

A grandfather's belief that his granddaughters and their parents might have survived a plane crash in rugged mountain terrain led him to hire a helicopter and search for their missing private aircraft.

He also issued an appeal for help in searching for the plane and its passengers, pleading, "They may still be alive."

Scott King, the grandfather, was aboard the 'copter when they found the plane Thursday, half-hidden by trees. They found his granddaughters, Julie Clark, 6, and her sister, Laurie, 8, alive.

After flying back to a parking lot to leave King off, Palm Springs helicopter pilot Don Landells, and a security officer who wished to remain anonymous, returned to the scene expecting to find all four persons aboard the crashed plane dead.

"May I have some water, please?" asked Julie as she stumbled toward the security officer.

The officer and the pilot had no water for the cracked, parched lips of the girls. In desperation they gave them coffee and some grapes and rubbed salve on their lips.

The sisters miraculously had survived 65 hours of pain, uncertainty and cold beside the wreckage of their parents' plane. The bodies of their parents were found in and near the mangled aircraft.

Killed instantly in the crash Monday were William R. Clark, vice president of Travelodge Corp., and his wife, Jacqueline, both 32, La Mesa, Calif., a suburb of San Diego.

"Mommy and daddy were dead. Laurie had a hurt knee and couldn't walk," Julie later told King, president of Travelodge.

Julie explained from a hospital bed that this was why she remained for three days without food or water beside the plane and her sister.

This and the determined belief of their grandfather is probably the reason why the two girls are alive today and improving at St. Bernardino's Hospital.

Undergoes Operation

While Julie told the harrowing tale of their three days without food or water from her San Bernardino, Calif., hospital bed, her sister was in another part of the hospital undergoing a three-hour operation to set a compound fracture of her left thigh.

"The plane went down real fast," Julie said. "Mommy and Daddy didn't have a chance to say a thing."

She said she helped her sister sit up against a log where she lay with a portion of bone protruding from her thigh.

Looks For Water

"Laurie said I should go to the plane and try to find some water," Julie continued. "I looked all over because we always carried water, but I couldn't find any. I couldn't find any food either."

"Then Laurie told me to look for something for us to keep warm with. I went back to the plane and found a suitcase. Mommy and Daddy's clothes were in it. We put them on and huddled together to keep warm. We didn't get cold."

"Later Laurie said I should go up over the hill to get help. I got halfway up and got scared so I ran back. I didn't get scared again, though."

One of the first doctors to arrive at the scene said he was extremely impressed that the young girl child did not leave.

"She could easily have wandered off, but she didn't," Dr. Thomas R. Hall said. "She stayed with her wounded sister. They just fought the problem themselves with Mommy and Daddy dead."

See Search Planes

The little girls saw search planes overhead.

"But no one seemed to know we were down there," Julie said. "When the helicopters came, Laurie said they would find us because they could land anywhere."

Julie wasn't asked if her parents were dead. But she knows.

"They didn't move, so I knew they were dead," she said earlier when she was found.

Laurie, despite her injuries, was conscious and uncomplaining on the trip by helicopter to safety.

Residents in the area of the plane crash said temperatures in the mountainous area had fallen into the 30s since Monday when the plane vanished. Doctors attributed the good condition in which the girls were found to their excellent physical condition.

Weakened Heart Causes Anxiety Over Soblen

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Robert A. Soblen's heart weakened and his condition caused his doctors grave anxiety today more than 24 hours after he swallowed an overdose of barbiturates.

The convicted Soviet spy still was unconscious. His condition was so grave that British authorities gave up hope for the president of deporting him to the United States to start serving a life term in prison.

Curtain of Secrecy Over Tax Revision Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A legislative curtain dropped today on President Kennedy's tax revision bill, passed Thursday by the Senate.

The fate of the measure rested with 14 men who will make up a conference committee given the task of working out a compromise between the Senate and House measures.

Prospects are that negotiations will not get started for some time. The House has not yet named its seven conferees. The Senate is faced with a staggering load of session-closing legislation, including action on Kennedy's trade program.

All seven of the Senate conferees are members of the finance committee, which is scheduled to resume closed sessions on the trade bill next Tuesday.

Senate passage of the trimmed-down tax measure came Thursday by a vote of 59-24, despite a shower of criticism from both the political left and right.

Liberals charged it was chock-full of tax favoritism for big, special-interest groups.

Congressman D.S. Saund Can't Return to Campaign

Demo Solon Insists He Will Continue Race

Some of the guesswork came out of the upcoming congressional race in Riverside and Imperial Counties today with announcement by Democratic incumbent Dalip S. Saund that he will be unable to actively campaign for return to office.

Saund's announcement appears to leave California's 38th Congressional District wide open for Republican Pat Martin of Riverside.

Rep. Saund's statement insisted that he was capable and able to handle the duties of his office if reelected.

However, Saund's top office aide, Bob Farrow, flatly refused to explain the exact nature of Saund's illness. The congressman was stricken during a flight from California to Washington last May.

Disease Described

Saund was described by Mrs. Saund as "an occlusion of a blood vessel in the head." This is described by doctors as "a stroke." The medicals say this could leave a victim suffering varying degrees of paralysis, depending on the severity of the attack.

Repeated efforts to learn the true state of the congressman's condition have met a stone wall of silence. However, Farrow did tell The Desert Sun he would ask Rep. Saund for a full report on his condition.

A woman office worker in Saund's Washington, D.C., office this morning read a statement from Saund as follows:

Saund Statement

"Since my hospitalization I have been greatly comforted to receive expressions of sympathy from hundreds of my friends in Riverside and Imperial Counties.

"I am sincerely grateful for these friendly messages of best wishes and warm affection. I appreciate the genuine interest of those devoted friends in my welfare and plans for the future.

"I am a candidate for reelection and I fully expect to be able to continue my service to my congressional district if the people again demonstrate their approval of my representation at the polls.

"Unfortunately my doctors have indicated that I probably will be unable to leave the hospital for the coming campaign. This is a deep disappointment to me for I would welcome the opportunity again to meet my constituents face-to-face, place my record before them and sincerely ask them for their continued support. I will sadly miss these pleasant personal contacts this year.

Solicits Support

"My name will be on the ballot on Nov. 6 because the voters of my party gave me an overwhelming vote of confidence in the June primary election. I again solicit their support — and support of my thousands of Republican friends — on the basis of my six years of service and accomplishment for the people of Riverside and Imperial Counties.

"Although it is considered wise to limit my visitors, I shall continue to confer with my wife, staff, and the leaders of Congress on important business affecting the welfare of my district."

NEWS in BRIEF

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today asked Congress for authority to order up to 150,000 members of the ready reserve of the armed forces to active duty because of the tense international situation, including Berlin and Cuba.

Specifically, Kennedy asked for the authority to call the reservists to active duty during the period between congressional adjournment expected within the next few weeks and next Feb. 28, about two months after the next session of Congress convenes.

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Strongman Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau today set up vigilance committees in restive Villayas military districts Three and Four today in an effort to consolidate control over those areas.

Paid Head For Charity Drives Asked

Charity fund raising efforts in the Palm Springs area will be more effective if coordinated in one central group under paid professional administration. This was the recommendation made by the Community Chest survey committee this morning.

The committee, under the chairmanship of William Smith, met at the board rooms of the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association this morning. The principal discussion centered about a detailed survey of the local charity situation made by Shaw and Associates, a professional team in the field.

Details of the survey to substantiate the recommendations and findings made will be made available to Community Chest directors prior to an early meeting with the survey committee, according to Smith.

The report of Shaw Associates was presented and discussions led by D. Albert Hoffman, associate director of the firm. It dealt with present overlapping and duplication locally of fund raising efforts.

After recommending that a coordinated effort be maintained in the future, the report urged that long-range planning embrace the hiring of a full time professional to administer the program, with volunteer local help and under a local board of directors.

For the immediate fall campaign, however, it was recommended that professional help be retained on a part time or temporary basis to ensure success of the coming campaign and establish a favorable image for future years.

Troops for Cuba Asked In Congress

GOP Leaders Urge Calm Approach to Soviet Arms Threat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders proposed today that Congress adopt a Formosa-type declaration authorizing President Kennedy to use troops if necessary in the Cuba crisis.

At the same time, the GOP Senate and House leaders urged all Americans to "unite in a calm, considered approach" to meet the threat of the Soviet arms buildup of the Castro regime.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., and House Leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., told a news conference they had not cleared their proposal in advance either with the President or the Democratic leadership.

They said they were submitting it in a letter to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker John A. McCormack today. They said they would like to see resolution adopted before Congress adjourns this year.

Sought by Eisenhower

The Formosa resolution was adopted in 1955 at then President Dwight D. Eisenhower's urging. At that time Communist China was threatening the nationalist island stronghold and the Pescadores Islands. The resolution authorized the President "to employ the armed forces of the United States" at his own discretion.

Some legislators argued at the time that Eisenhower, as commander-in-chief, had that authority anyhow. But Halleck noted today that the result has "proved very effective up to this point."

The Republicans invited Democrats to join in drafting the proposed Cuba resolution—which presumably would refer to all of Latin America as well. They urged that it be drawn up in consultation with the White House.

Dirksen, answering questions, said the idea was not broached to Kennedy at this week's high-level briefing on the Cuban problem.

High School in Special Appeal

All Palm Springs High School students who can get transportation to school on the opening day other than by bus are being asked to do so, George Bond, district transportation director, said today.

When school opens Monday, he said, all classes will convene at the same time, and buses will not be able to get all students to them by that time. After Monday, first class times will be varied, and the problem will be over.

The appeal is to high school students only and for Monday only, he emphasized.

U.S. Asks Embargo on Cuban Arms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has asked several of its NATO Allies to try to prevent their commercial ships from carrying Soviet goods to Cuba, official sources said today.

The action was a follow-up to President Kennedy's remark at a news conference a week ago that NATO countries should "consider what steps they could take to discourage their private vessels from being chartered by Russia for the Cuban trade."

The State Department estimated that since mid-July about 60 ships have left Soviet bloc ports for Cuba. Of these, 25 were said to be Soviet-owned and most of the rest were chartered from free world countries.

A U.S. approach to several NATO nations was made in Paris Wednesday by U.S. political representatives to the NATO Council. But it was done in private meetings with European representatives, not through NATO committee machinery.

American officials also are continuing talks with European countries on whether their trade with Cuba hampers U.S. policy of trying to isolate the Castro regime economically and whether goods embargoed to Cuba by the United States might have been transshipped through Europe.

The countries approached on the charter question included Greece, Norway, Britain and West Germany. These are said to be the NATO nations whose vessels most frequently are chartered to Russia.

at each other, the crisis appeared to be drifting away from solution.

The Russian shooting of an American military vehicle in East Germany Sunday became known Thursday. Officials in Washington confirmed the incident shortly after the State Department accused Russia of making false charges against the West in an effort to cover up Moscow's failure to live up to its responsibilities in Berlin.

Answers Soviet Note

The State Department statement was in reply to Wednesday's Soviet note charging the United States, Britain and France with provoking incidents along the Berlin wall and protecting fascist elements in West Germany.

In their note, the Russians turned down a Western bid for a Four-Power meeting to discuss measures to prevent border incidents and reduce tension along the Communist-built wall that divides the city.

The sedan incident raised the possibility that the United States might accuse the Russians of reckless shooting and Moscow might counter-charge that the United States is using its liaison mission for spying in East Germany.

Bullets Pierce Auto

Russian sentries fired 40 shots at the American car as it toured the Eastern sector. One or two bullets pierced the auto but the driver and two officers inside were not hurt.

The sedan, belonging to the U.S. military liaison mission to the Soviet army, was fired upon as it drove near a Soviet army freight train standing on a siding.

The train was believed to be carrying Russian ground-to-air anti-aircraft missiles for mobile launchers the Russians have begun to ship to East Germany.

Hurt in Accident

ATHENS (UPI) — Prince Michael of Greece and four other persons were injured Thursday night in an automobile accident in suburban Kifissia.

The prince was hospitalized with a slight concussion and facial bruises, authorities said.

Lad Lands Big Trout at Golf Lake

A 12-year-old lad from San Diego showed the older and more experienced anglers a thing or two Thursday evening as he fished the PS Golf Course Lake and landed a 2 lb. 13 oz. trout in the "Fishing Derby."

Mike Cahalan, who with his parents has been vacationing in Palm Springs, snagged the prize catch to be the "top" fisherman of the evening.

The third "Fishing Derby" of the season drew a crowd of over 100 local and visiting anglers. The event was co-sponsored by the City Recreation and Special Events department along with the personnel of the PS Golf Course.

A goodly number of families crowded the banks of the golf course lake and enjoyed an evening of togetherness with bulging picnic baskets.

A total of 58 trout are missing from the lake today, after the desert fishermen arrived early in the evening and tried their skill at landing the "big" one that didn't get away.

For the immediate fall campaign, however, it was recommended that professional help be retained on a part time or temporary basis to ensure success of the coming campaign and establish a favorable image for future years.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed narrow today after President Kennedy's call for 150,000 reservists nipped a rally in the bud.

Among the blue chips—Union Carbide and General Electric managed point-sized gains but American Telephone, and Owens-Illinois softened similarly. Generally, the leading steels, autos and chemicals were narrow and international oils gained fractions while some of the secondaries moved widely with Atlantic Refining up about 1½ and Barber down over 2.

Among the high-priced glamor electronics and specialties IBM, Beckman, Polaroid, Xerox, and Crown Cork fell between 2 and 4 points while others eased lesser amounts.

Estes Received Great Favors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the early figures in the Billie Sol Estes case returned today to tell Congress that the Texas farm financier received "extremely favorable" treatment from Agriculture Department officials.

N. Battle Hales, a veteran employee of the department, also charged that his superiors would have let Estes get away untouched if the FBI had not arrested him in Texas.

Hales made the allegations in testimony prepared for the Senate investigations subcommittee. They were in sharp contrast to that of other department officials who contended that Estes received nothing more than the treatment due any American citizen.

Hales denied that he was a crusader or a disgruntled employee, angry because he had not been promoted.

He had been transferred to the position of "defense coordinator" after serving as staff assistant to Emory Jacobs, deputy director of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service. Jacobs resigned following accusations that he had accepted expensive gifts from Estes.

Hales said he was transferred last spring because he knew too much about Estes. He insisted at the time of his transfer that he was barred from his office and access to the Estes files. He said today that the department blatantly tried to discredit him.

Other congressional news:
Birth control: An aide to the House information subcommittee said today that he had been instructed to begin an immediate investigation into finding out why the government suppressed a secret report on human reproduction and birth control. Big Pageant Moves Into Final Phase

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Miss America Pageant preliminaries moved into the home stretch today with the 54 talented and pretty contestants fighting the jitters.

Miss Hawaii and Miss Michigan Thursday night won trophies in the talent and swim suit contests—in that order.

Miss Hawaii, Patricia Anderson, a doll with a Metropolitan Opera voice, sang "Un Bel Di" from Madame Butterfly and wept when she won.

The swim suit winner, Carole Jean Van Valin, reacted differently when the judges selected her. "I just didn't realize—I'm just going to have to take a second look at myself in a mirror," she said.

The third round of competitions in the preliminary phase of the pageant is tonight. Saturday the judges will announce the names of contestants who merit a place on the semifinal level.

The survivor of that competition gets the Miss America crown.

GOP Assembly Meet to Hear Texas Senator

JFK Man Victorious In Primary

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veteran Rep. Charles A. Buckley, 72, carrying a presidential endorsement, squeaked through to victory in Thursday's primary election over a reform candidate backed by Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City.

The Bronx Democrat, perennial holder of the worst attendance record in Congress and labeled a "boss" by Wagner and the reformers, defeated David Levy 20,158 to 17,218 to win renomination in the 23rd Congressional District.

Across the state regular organization candidates, Republican and Democratic, generally rolled to victory, with one main exception: In Manhattan, Rep. William Fitts Ryan, who faced loss of his seat due to last year's reapportionment met Rep. Herbert Zelenko head-on in the new 20th Congressional District and won the Democratic nomination with reform backing.

In Westchester County, Ogden Reid, former president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune, defeated incumbent Rep. Edwin B. Dooley for the Republican nomination in the 26th Congressional District. The Republican organization backed Reid.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller won renomination over Donald C. Chaplin by a wide margin in the 40th Congressional District, upstate. Results of congressional primaries did not portend significant changes in the present alignment of Republicans and Democrats in Congress.

RAIL WALKOUT

JFK May Intervene

CHICAGO (UPI) — The growing economic impact of the telegraphers strike that shut down the Chicago and North Western Railway brought appeals today for President Kennedy to intervene.

The walkout, in its second week with no end in sight, has idled cars on the nation's third longest rail network, 10,565 miles of track in nine states from the Great Lakes to the Wyoming Rockies.

The North Western, in newspaper advertisements, urged private citizens and industries to "ask what our government is doing to compel the union to accept the presidential emergency board recommendations (for settling the job security dispute that triggered the walkout)."

Other railroad leaders, along with community and business groups, made similar appeals to Kennedy amid mounting reports of plant closings, worker dismissals and stranded farm products.

Federal Mediator Francis A. O'Neill Jr., who has described Kennedy as "very concerned" about the strike, planned separate meetings again today with the North Western and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers (ORT).

O'Neill said, after talks Thursday with bargaining teams led by North Western board chairman Ben J. Heineman and ORT president George E. Leighty, there was "no change in basic positions." The "basic positions" in the five-year-old dispute were the ORT demand that elimination of telegraphers' jobs be subject to joint negotiations, and the North Western rejection of this proposal in favor of the emergency board recommendations. The board suggested, among other things, that workers laid off be retrained and re-hired on a preferential basis. The walkout by some 1,000 telegraphers, depot attendants and tower watchmen began Aug. 30. More than 15,000 other North Western employees also were out on cross ORT picket lines.

Big Transportation Job Starts Monday

By PEYTON CANARY

The biggest transportation job in the Palm Springs district resumes Monday, with a big goal.

The job: transporting 2,200 to 2,300 pupils and students of the Palm Springs Unified School District twice a day, during the coming school year.

The goal: maintaining safety perfection, and cutting costs which are already under state averages per bus mile.

The job adds up to an accountant's nightmare. The 2,300 passengers twice daily make 5,600 passengers a day, 352 trips a year, plus excursion and special trips. Approximately a quarter-million miles will be rolled by the district's 21 buses.

Best Year Yet

"We've never had a fatality in my 18 years with the district, and last year was our best year yet," George Bond, district transportation chief reported. During the 1961-62 school year, no chargeable accidents occurred in 230,000 miles of transporting an average passenger load of 5,400 a day.

"There weren't even any scratches on the buses from anything," Bond added.

Main problem facing bus drivers continues to be young girls in tight skirts.

"They sometimes slip on the steps — but for the past three years we've had all the steps painted with non-skid paints," Bond said.

The Palm Springs district safety record is the result of carefully-researched detail. Each driver has a complete packet on his clipboard, detailing the route.

Routes are carefully reviewed by Bond and his drivers. Major route changes bring a pre-school "dry-run" over the entire route. The routing eliminates pupil crossing of Highway 111 or Palm Canyon Drive.

Reports filled out include a careful head-count, by grade groupings, on all passengers at each stop. A special report form is available for driver reports of any infractions of pupil rules, including safety rules.

Drivers Are Checked

Counter-checks on the driver performance is made by periodic itemized printed reports on the drivers, the safety patrols on the bus and at bus stops.

One report indicating serious or multiple variations from the excellent rating draw a careful review of the driver performance and a second check. The final performance check over the route is made by Bond.

"Sometimes I just have to let a driver go — but it's rare. They help each other, and they're as proud of their outstanding record as we are," Bond explained.

The youngsters themselves keep the waiting passengers back from the bus as it approaches for loading, patrol passenger seating, and maintain order. The safety patrols — equipped with distinctive belts and badges — help pupils off the bus, and hear the safety slogan of the week from every seventh passenger. A detailed film review of the safety patrol operation—"The School Bus and You," outlines the passenger operations for grade school youngsters and the drivers. The picture, a 16 mm sound film written and directed by Bond, is used across the nation.

"The safety slogan emphasis shows results when the youngsters get to high school and take driver training. You can spot a driving student who has been trained here, by his safety attitude," Bond reported.

Costs May Drop

With a new bus maintenance and storage facility, costs are expected to dip beyond the current operating total of approximately 40 cents a bus mile.

"We will do all our mechanical work here, including major motor overhauls," Bond said. He explained his crew will even do upholstery repair work, plus all routine lubrication and maintenance.

"We have a graduate automotive engineer in Vic Page, our chief mechanic. Our crew includes two fulltime mechanics plus a lube man, and part-time work by some drivers," Bond reported.

A new labor-saving device is an overhead mop, built to wash bus tops.

"It will allow us to wash them much faster, and wash them every three days instead of every seven," Bond explained. He emphasized that good condition starts with a clean unit.

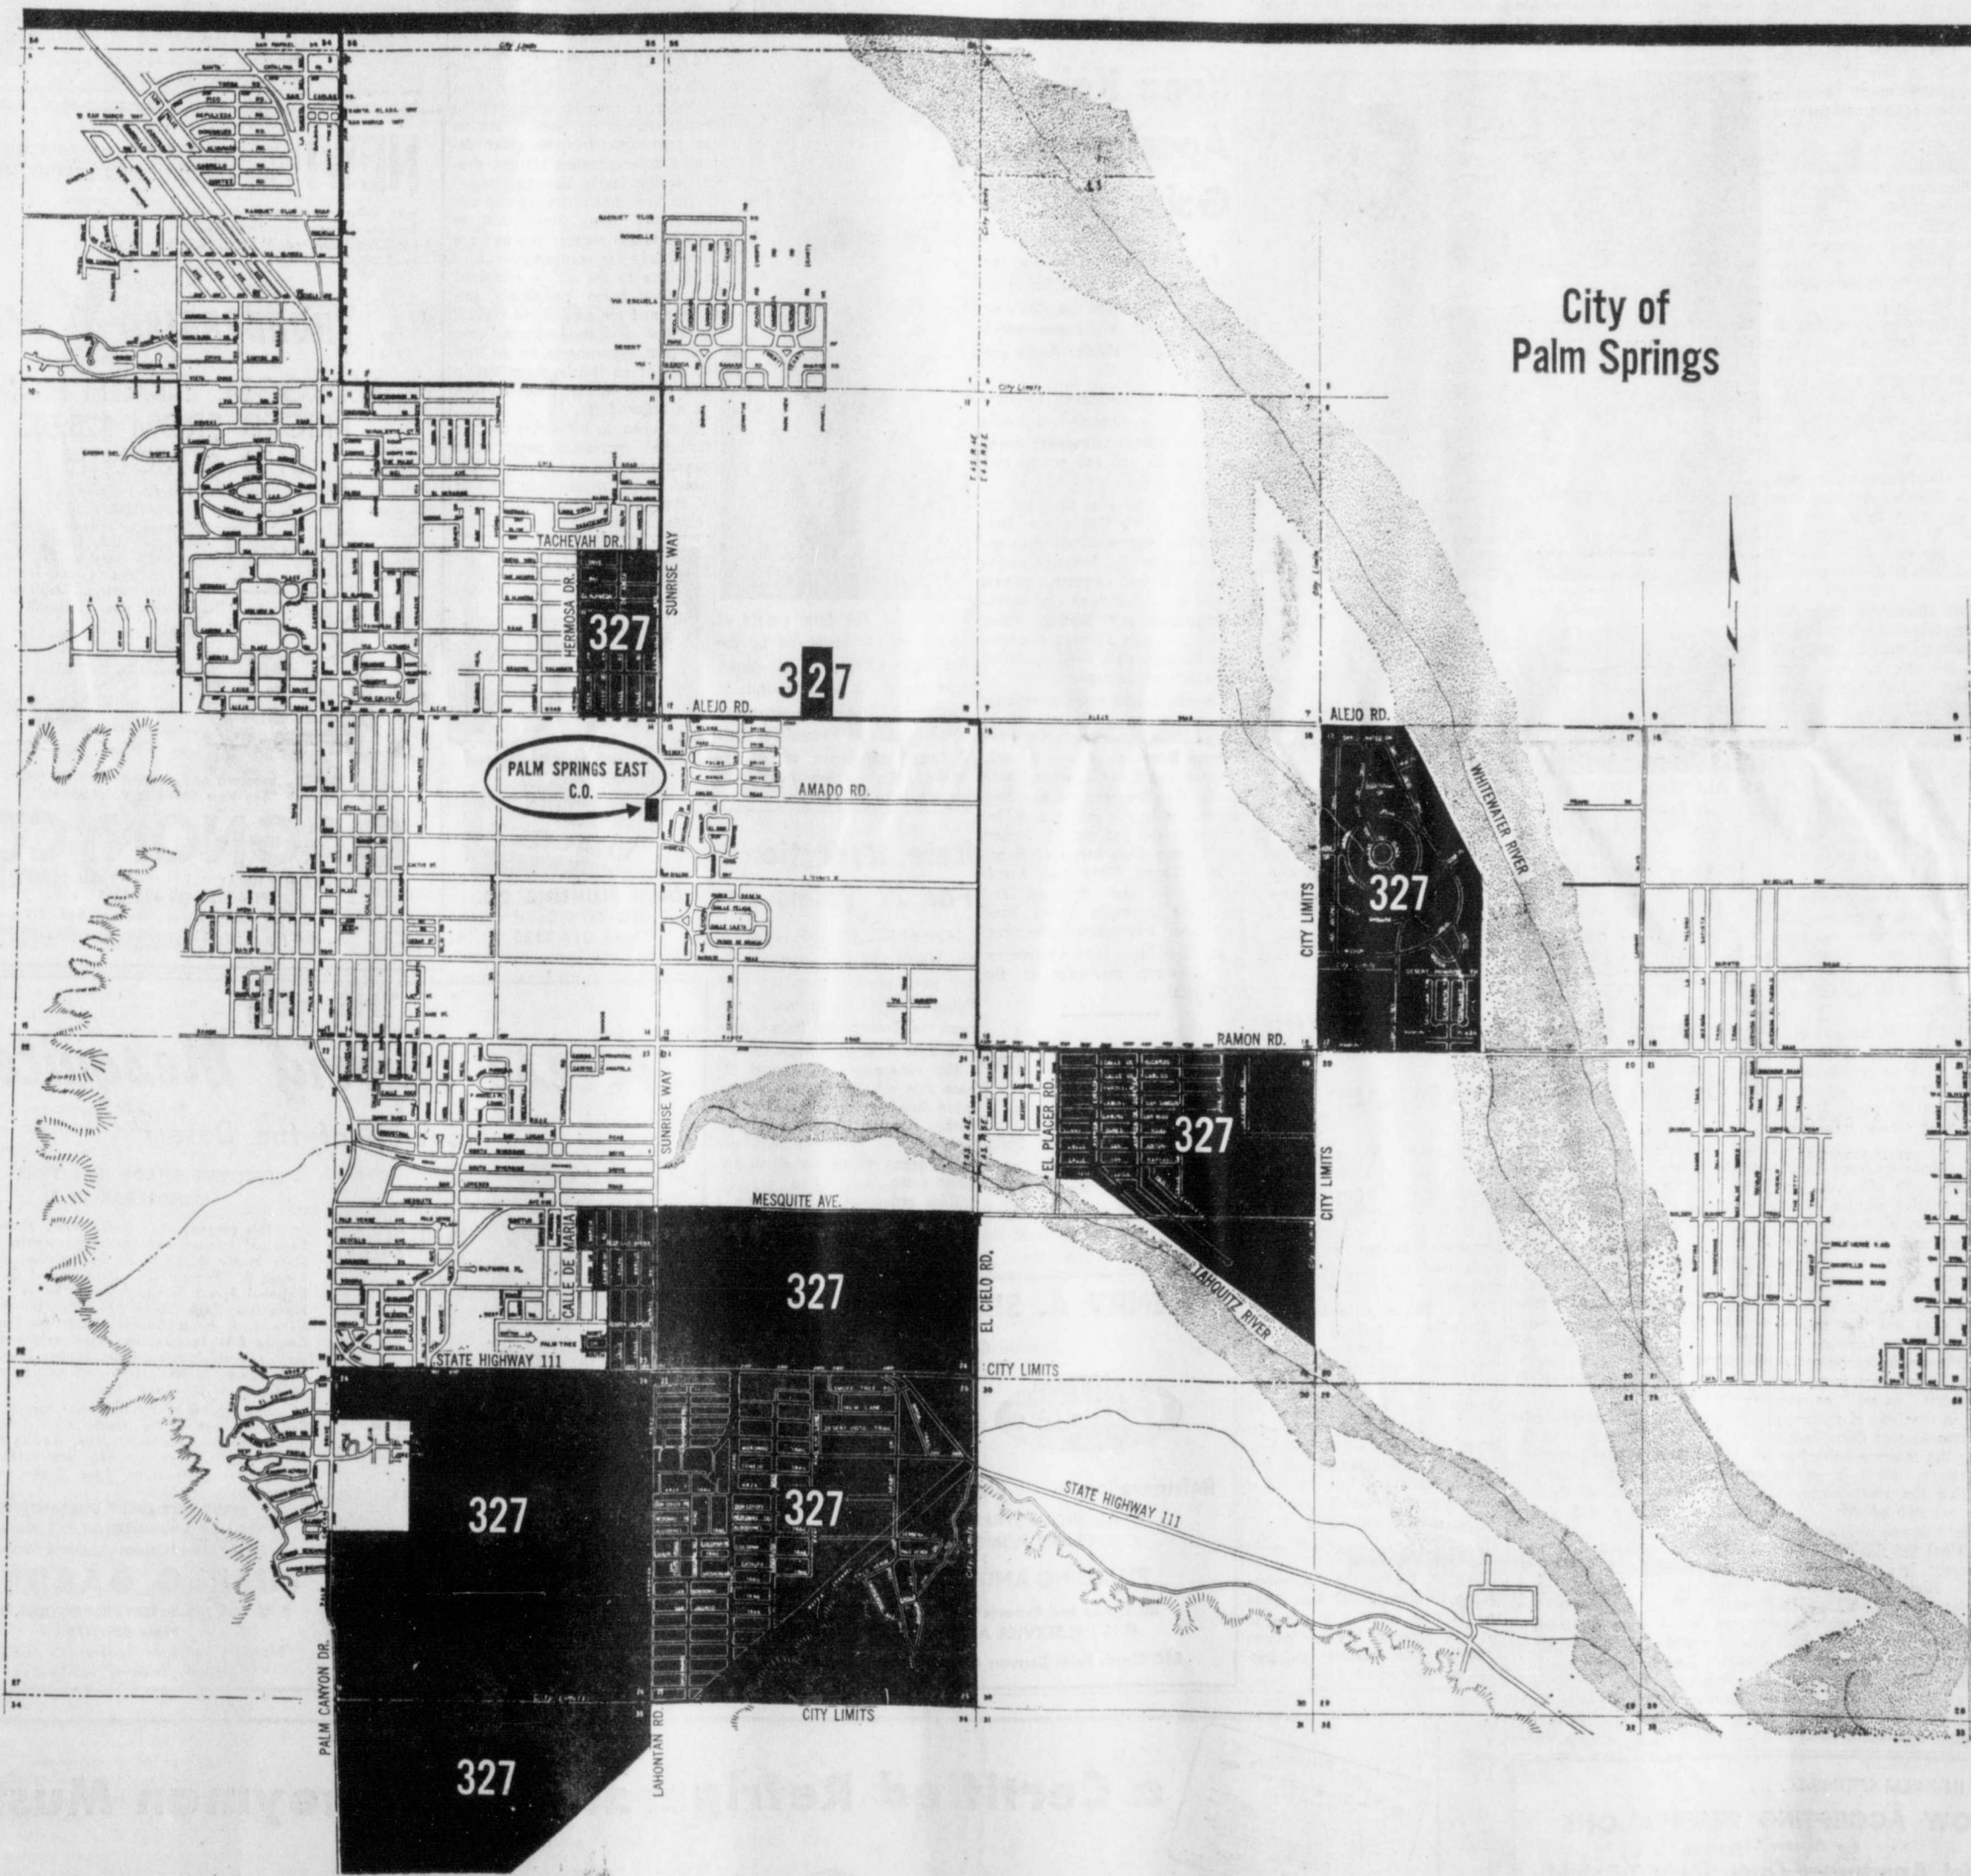

"You can't see anything wrong if it's covered with dirt," he concluded.

Most people would succeed in small things if they were not troubled by great ambitions.

PALM DESERT — The newest and most unique addition to southern California's desert resort hotels, the $3,000,000 Erawan Garden Hotel, will open Nov. 1, according to Thomas C. Kona Kai Apartments Gains Told Early response has been so favorable to the new Kona Kai apartments in Palm Springs that owner-builder Sol B. Forman reports he is planning similar future projects.

The 19 unit apartment one-story Kona Kai is located two blocks from the Mayfair shopping center in the south end and covers over an acre.

Forman, who also designed the project, reports that a new Gold Medallion wing is furnished in oriental modern and Venetian motifs and wall to wall carpeting, private patios built-in kitchens and ducted refrigeration and heating. Other features include garbage disposals and four-inch rock wool insulation in walls and ceilings.

Forman has 20 years experience in construction and architectural design. Since coming to Palm Springs from Los Angeles in 1948, Forman has been associated with his brother, George, and has built many fine homes in the area. Included in the list are the Harpox Country Club homes of Harpo Marx, Zeppo Marx and Frank Sinatra. He also designed and built the Bermuda Palms hotel and other commercial structures.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Chiappinini are resident managers at the Kona Kai.

Rate Reduction For 29 Palms

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California Water and Telephone Co. today won approval from the state Public Utilities Commission to expand its Twentynine Palms base rate area beginning Sept. 27.

The expansion will extend the base rate area to include slightly more than 1½ square miles of suburban territory, mostly on the west end of town but with two small segments on the north and south sides.

Rate reductions will mean a savings of $1,580 a year to 152 subscribers, company officials said.

Climate Held Attraction To Palm City Home Buyers

PALM CITY — A warm, dry, healthful climate is one of the bonus attractions which set Palm City apart from other retirement communities in California.

This is the opinion of Nels G. Severin, developer of 1800 units in the "active" retirement city located near Palm Springs.

Many of the 850 residents already living at Palm City have chosen the desert as the ideal retirement spot because the climate clears up ailments such as arthritis and asthma and is often recommended for certain heart conditions.

"A number of doctors have practiced what they preach about the climate," Severin said. "Twenty physicians and dentists have now purchased our retirement homes."

Most facilities were completed this summer at Palm City. Construction is progressing rapidly on residences in the second section in preparation for the great demand expected when the new desert season starts, Severin said.

The first unit of homes sold out in record time. More than 60 homes in the number two unit are now ready for occupancy.

Visitors to the self-contained city view seven completely furnished and air conditioned models, plus one- and two-bedroom "own-your-own" apartments, on the first 9-holes of an 18-hole championship golf course where residents play at a reduced fee.

Also open to inspection are the furnished recreation center, club rooms and arts and crafts center, which home owners may use free of charge. The center offers such recreation as swimming, shuffleboard, roque, horseshoes, card playing, singing, dancing and barbecues.

Also constructed for the convenience of residents are a medical-dental building, staffed by geriatrics specialists of the Suntown Medical Group.

CREA Prexy Sets Hi-Desert Visit

28th District
Hosts Brown
On Sept. 12

YUCCA VALLEY — The president of the 38,000-member California Real Estate Association, Charles H. Brown, of Pasadena, will be guest of honor at a noon luncheon meeting at the airport's Copper Room here next Wednesday.

The session will be hosted by the local board of realtors jointly with the boards of Palm Springs, Palm Desert, Cathedral City, Desert Hot Springs, Joshua Tree, Twentynine Palms and Coachella Valley, which comprise the CREA's 28th district.

Brown will be accompanied by his wife, and CREA executive vice president H. Jackson Pontius, as well as Mrs. Theresa Press, vice president for the local district.

"Current Real Estate Trends in California" is the topic of Brown's talk before the group and he will also comment on legislative proposals affecting real estate now under study by the state legislature, advance reports indicate.

"We are honored to have Mr. Brown visit our community in his heavy schedule of travel to local realty boards throughout the state," said Mrs. Mary Hugenugler, president of the Yucca Valley board.

Officers and members of the board are busy making plans for the gala affair to which the presidents of chambers of commerce, national, state and county officials and civic leaders have been invited. The session is open to all members of real estate boards in this area and their guests.

A local highlight of the program will be the presentation of state and local charters to the newly-formed Joshua Tree board.

Chairman for the luncheon is Mrs. Hugenugler, president of the host board of realtors in Yucca Valley. Participating board and their presidents on the 28th district include 29 Palms headed by Ralph Fisher; Joshua Tree of which Melvin A. Benson is president; Desert Hot Springs headed by James G. Pack; Palm Springs, Isabelle Cameron, president; Cathedral City, Charles McCormick, president; Palm Desert, Thoral Lake, president; and Coachella Valley headed by Dorothy McCulloch.

County Mulls Building Size Minimum Law

RIVERSIDE — Only one of several proposed amendments to the county zoning ordinance — that of changing the present building size minimum — remains undecided today.

Amendments approved following a county planning commission study requested by the board of supervisors includes setting a minimum commercial poultry lot size to nine acres in the A-1 light agriculture zone and setting of a 500-foot minimum distance between billboards in the M-5 outdoor advertising zone.

The present building minimum requirement in unincorporated areas of the county is 480 square feet. The planning commission approved an increase to a minimum of 750 square feet. The board of supervisors appeared to agree with the proposal but in view of protests from some rural and resort areas, they asked the commission to consider requiring the 750 feet only in urban areas.

The commission, on advice of County Counsel Ray Sullivan, determined that drawing of lines to establish urban areas regulating the size of buildings would be impractical. They said it would be better to compromise on the county-wide minimum and suggested a minimum of 650 square feet.

The supervisors expressed the opinion generally that a 650 square foot minimum county wide would be too small. "There are actually very few houses built with less than 1000 square feet," said Supervisor William Jones.

Supervisor Norman Davis suggested that certain minimums be applied to certain zones. The other supervisors seemed pleased with the idea and appealed to Sullivan for an opinion.

DESERT GARDENER

About Sweet Peas And Pruning Time

Continuing last week's dissertation on sweet peas: The bed for your sweet peas should have been prepared in advance. For best results we would suggest a layer of Georgia peat, a layer of commercial leaf mold, and humus mixed with the desert soil. Inasmuch as our city fathers have tabooed the use of steer manure, an excellent move to lower the number of pest flies, commercial mulch mixed with the desert soil is an excellent substitute. Watering at regular intervals will gradually seep into the mixture and if your seeds are planted about ten days after the bed is originally prepared you should have sweet peas galore for house decoration during the coming season.

Pruning Time Near

If the weather follows its usual custom (is there anything usual in the desert?), the 15th of the month should begin a noticeable diminishing of daytime heat. Pruning of rose bushes, citrus and other trees, and many shrubs and vines may safely be taken in hand after mid-September.

The protection afforded to the plants by the foliage will no longer be necessary as when the rays of the summer sun and resultant rapid evaporation could have caused much damage. The use of a sharp pruning scissors is advisable if you want to avoid damage to the plant. Ragged ends not only mark the work of a slipshod gardener, they are detrimental to the plant's growth. The end of any branch or tree limb over one and a half inches in diameter should be sealed after cutting to prevent loss of the tree's nutritional sap. Keep handy a can of one of the many asphaltum preparations made for this purpose.

If you contemplate burning cuttings, leaves, etc., in the open, first secure a permit from the fire department.

For this season's bloom plant a winter jasmine. Originating in China this plant is particularly hardy and its bright green branches show up well against white painted trellis and if they are espaliered against a wall of white color. It may be grown as a dense thicket instead of a climber by allowing the branches to root themselves in the surrounding ground.

There are about a dozen varieties of jasmine that can be grown in this locality. Personal choice and the blossoming season of the separate varieties should govern your selection.

Gladioli bulbs may be planted now; a wise method of planting bulbs is gradually becoming permanent among gladioli lovers, a method that lets you enjoy gladioli for a longer period when they are in bloom. By preparing a slightly longer trench the bulbs can be planted over a period of five or six weeks. The same method may be used on iris, daffodils and other bulbs or rhizomes.

1000 Palms Zone Change Hearing Set

RIVERSIDE — A hearing on a proposed zoning change to permit a mobile home retirement subdivision development at Thousand Palms has been set by the board of supervisors for Oct. 1 at 1:30 p.m.

The proposed zoning is the county's new R-TA zone for trailer park subdivisions. The property for which the project is planned is 391 acres at the southeast corner of Ramon Road and Kubie Road north of the 60-70-99 freeway.

Plans are for 2,000 lots around a seven-acre recreation area and 55-acre 18-hole golf course. The developers are Mobilife Corporation of Sarasota, Fla.

Approval of the zoning has been recommended by the county planning commission.

Teens-- 'Make Down'

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—A leading cosmetics manufacturer calls on the teen-aged American girl to tone down her use of cosmetics.

Make down, not make up, is the advice Philip Cortney offers to the teen-aged misses who almost to a girl have adopted overly teased hair combs and thick coatings of eye makeup.

The result of this latter of layers? "Pretty young faces turned into ludicrous tribal masks," said Cortney.

"Most cosmetics are manufactured to make women look young," said Cortney. "But the teen-ager is young. She doesn't have to make up. She should 'make down.'"

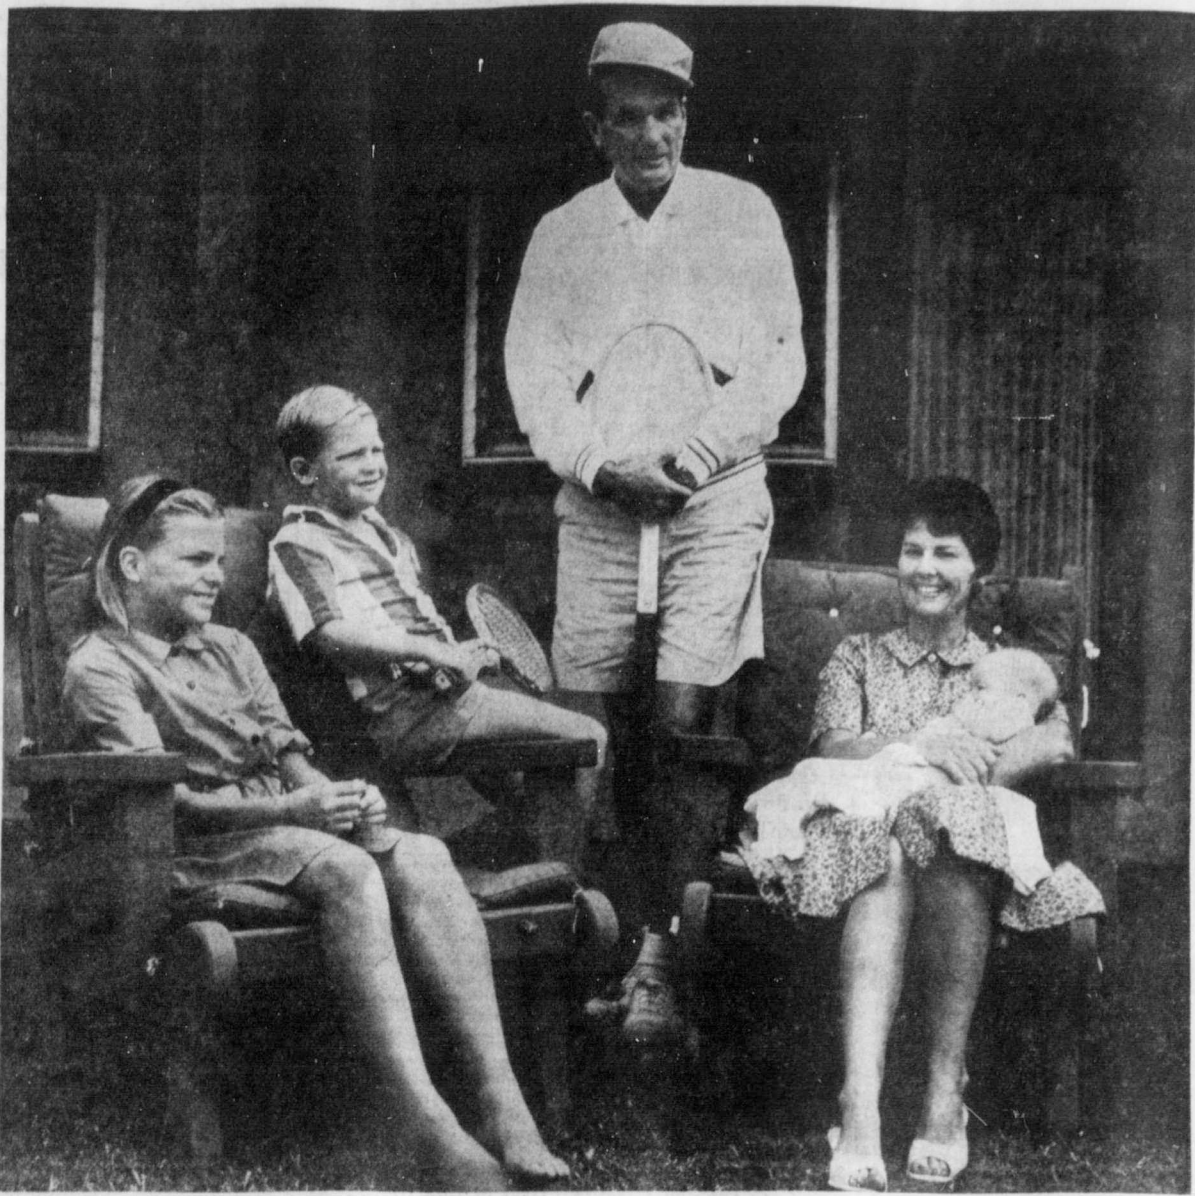

Cortney, the French-born president of Coty International Inc., said he had been asked if it were not unusual for the head of a cosmetics company to advance such a theory.

"But they are wrong," he said. "Making down doesn't mean the non-use of makeup."

"It means a light touch in colors and textures—a re-evaluation."

"Naturally," he said, "we don't approve of a teen-ager wearing eye shadow to a football game or high school French II. There's a time and place for everything. If she's over 16, she can wear a touch of shadow for a big occasion—a prom or tea dance."

"Beauty isn't skin deep, it's bone deep," said Cortney. "It begins with at least eight hours of sleep, a well balanced diet, exercise and scrupulous cleanliness..."

Dresses of Corduroy in Fashion News

Corduroy, long a favorite in sportswear and suits, has emerged for autumn in all kinds of new and exciting dress shapes.

Capturing this fresh mood in her fall collection is Anne Fogarty, always known for her new-looking dresses, who uses the corduroy on a bias to create the long-sleeved frock shown at left. It is all line — created with a high, collarless neck, a princess silhouette, and a very flattering skirt that features a slight fullness.

Fogarty frocks can be found exclusively at one of Palm Springs' women's specialty shops.

Another change is the slim shirtdress in wide-wale corduroy, interestingly accented with a bias closing and cuffed three-quarter sleeves.

Sleeveless dresses which double sometimes as jumpers also are rampant. The unbelted shift with big pockets and yoke seaming, the full - skirted jumper with deep patch pockets, and the sleeveless shirtwaist all look very new in corduroy.

Tips on Holding a Job as President

NEW YORK (UPI) — In this organization-happy land, presidents are in profuse supply. A presidency of some club or other group eventually happens to almost every woman. Or else a chairmanship of a committee, where the same qualities of leadership are required.

If you're an incoming president facing the busy fall and winter season after the summer slump, don't panic. Remember you've won an "election" at the local, state or national level because the membership of the PTA, the ladies' auxiliary, the women's club had confidence in you. By electing you, they're also pledged to work with you.

Dig in Early

So dig in early—it's one of the best methods for assuring a successful term, advises one woman president whose string of organization activities is staggering.

She is Mrs. Merton B. Tice, of Mitchell, S.D., new national president of the ladies auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The

Local Prexy in Agreement

Echoing Mrs. Tice's to-the-point suggestions is Isabel Hilelson, 1962-63 president of the local Ladies Auxiliary to Frontier Post No. 5887 Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"I'm not so sure about the girdle bit here in the desert," she laughed, "and since I always wear our uniform to meetings, I don't have to worry about hats and white gloves."

"But I heartily agree with Mrs. Tice that ours must be a cooperative effort," she continued. "Unless every member of our auxiliary, and certainly all the officers, feels that she is an integral part of the organization, we will never be able to achieve the high goals for which we are aiming. "I will, of course, put forth my very best efforts as this year's auxiliary president, but I will be totally dependent upon the support and suggestions of my officers and the entire membership. "A president's job is one of coordination much more than pure leadership," Mrs. Hilelson concluded.

organization has some 350,000 members.

The new job doesn't frighten Elfrida Tice. She has held practically every local, state and national office in the VFW since she joined in 1947. She holds memberships and has served in a number of offices also with the federation of women's clubs, the Eastern Star, Dar, PTA and business and professional women's clubs.

A native of Norfolk, Va., she is married to a judge of the municipal court of Mitchell. The couple has three children: Charles, 21; Merton, 19, and Virginia, 16.

A Few Tips

To incoming presidents, Mrs. Tice in an interview offered these additional suggestions.

Check your wardrobe NOW to make sure your "meeting" dresses, hats and shoes are in order. Lay in a supply of white gloves. Avoid frou-frou, wild hats, and brilliant jewelry for platform appearances.

Get that fall permanent early. Get a new girdle for the first meeting of your organization—"a new girdle does wonders for your confidence," said Mrs. Tice.

Call up your board members, or write notes telling them how glad you are the year is starting, how much you look forward to working with them, thank them for their suggestions.

Fill vacancies in committee appointments, sticking to club by-laws.

A Message from Palma

From magical Mallorca comes word (via a postcard to Sue and Pat Raymond) that Jean and Myer Gensburg are having a wonderful time. "This hotel (the Son Vida at Palma) is beautiful," they write. "We have lunch at the pool and dinner on the terrace overlooking the Mediterranean — with dancing every night." The duo left Mallorca the end of last month for Cannes, and then on to England to visit her family. Last year, incidentally, her two nieces, Pam and Debra, visited her from England and attended Cahulla School.

The Gensburgs, who live at Deep Well, own the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas — give four or five lush, lush parties every season.

Speaking of parties calls to mind the exciting one held last night by Don and Isabelle Cameron at the Balboa Bay Club. They've been spending the summer on Lido Isle, commuting back and forth for their real estate chores and Isabelle, her role as president of the Real Estate Board here. So last night they bade a sad farewell to beach life with a cocktail and dinner party for 30 of their beach and desert friends.

Attending the fete from Indian Wells were Gloria and Bill Newell, Henry and Ginny Kuh, Beth Fisher, Helen Ritchie, Anita and Heber Erickson, and the hostess's sister, Molly Kenaston. Present, too, were Bud Taylor with pretty Jean Ann Hirsch; Mrs. Pat Raymond, who has been spending two months at the shore with her aunt, Mrs. Cameron; Peggy Lester of the Thunderbird Country Club and Lido Isle; and Geradine and Seymour Chotiner of Los Angeles.

Also invited were the Ed Thrashers of Palm Springs and Lido Isle and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Quinn, also of Indian Wells and the beach.

Brushed Leather For Sneaker

Leather sneakers with posture foundation construction now come in a brushed leather. Fall colors include clove, red, gold, and black. All are trimmed with white.

Sending regrets were Dr. and Mrs. John Costello, who are traveling and couldn't make it. Word is that because of their travels, the Costellos won't be giving their traditional start-of-the-season party this year — and how their desert friends will miss those refried beans and that guacamole!

Clementine Tinklepaugh

That's the name of a dog. And WHAT A dog — as Thirza Schenck has found out.

Thirza, who writes that sprightly column about Palm Desert people for The Desert Sun, offered to dog-sit when Clementine's owners (or does Clementine own THEM?) Grace and Pink Tinklepaugh, took off for a week at San Diego with Hap and Nan Ballard. It wasn't a mistake, exactly, for Thirza, but Clementine isn't particularly happy. She (Clementine) has her own place in the den for watching colored television (her favorite and only recreation, since she's at least 14 years old), and television has become a MUST for her. The only thing is, the colored set has proved too much for Thirza's limited mechanical abilities, and she (Thirza) can't make the thing work. And if you can't work the television, what on earth do you do to entertain a 14-year-old dog named Clementine Tinklepaugh?

Mrs. Fred S. Markham, Gertrude Hunt, Mrs. Dorothy Hoover, and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Field were in San Diego recently for the launching of the beautiful ship, the C.E. Dant. Luncheon followed at the historic old Hotel Coronado.

'Women DO Have More Auto Accidents,' the Experts Say

The long suffering male motorist, who has always been sure women don't know how to drive, but couldn't prove it scientifically, now—after 25 years has some statistics to back up his theory.

Females DO have higher accident rates than males when related to the number of miles driven, according to a study made last year by the National Safety Council.

The figures are based on the assumption that for 1961, the average U.S. male driver covered 10,000 miles; the female, 3,000. There were 63.5 million licensed male drivers on the highways, to 27 million females. Counting all types of traffic accidents, 14.9 million involved male drivers, as opposed to 3.6 million in which females were at the wheel. In publishing the report, the Safety Council threw gallantry to the winds after a quarter-century of tactful hedging on the critical question of who drives better.

Less Than a Week to Make Sure

The hobbies are off and the heat is on. Labor Day, the traditional climax of the summer vacation season is also the traditional get-away day for aspiring candidates.

The general election got under way this week and will hit its peak within a few days. The candidates are ready for the big drive between now and the eve of November 6 when the voters will take over.

Are you ready? Will you be able to take over on November 6 when the candidates wind up their electioneering and the pros and cons of the many important measures on the ballot have been quieted?

You still have time to learn whether you are eligible to vote. The registration books close next Thursday, September 13. But the time is shorter than you think, just six days and one of them is a Sunday.

If you have moved from one address to another in your precinct, into another precinct, another city or county or failed to vote in a general election you must re-register. And Thursday is the final day.

And don't shrug it off with the assertion that your vote is not important. It is. There are many instances in the state and in the nation's election history where a handful of voters either way would have changed the results of an important election or decided an important issue. The compromise of 1850 which resulted in California being admitted as a state 162 years ago was decided by one vote.

Besides the many state offices to be decided, there are the important Congressional seats to be filled and the more than a score of amendments and propositions which will have a long-lasting effect on your future, to be decided.

Then, of course, there is that Biggie between Richard Nixon and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

You have less than a week to make sure that you are eligible to have a voice in these important proceedings.

The process of making sure of your vote is simple. You can register at either of the major party headquarters here, they'll be glad to see you, or at the city hall.

It shouldn't be necessary to remind you — but too many still shirk their duty.

For it is a duty, not a privilege as so many believe.

Unless you vote, you really have no right to protest the results of an election.

Remember, Thursday, September 13, your last day to register. Make it a lucky 13th.

About the time the Billie Sol Estes case began making headlines, President Kennedy hinted that an investigation of the stockpiling of strategic materials might throw question on the administration of his predecessor.

After a committee under Senator Symington had received testimony attributing exorbitant profits to the company of former Treasury Secretary Humphrey, the senator suddenly ended the hearings while Mr. Humphrey was in the midst of a vigorous reply.

The government, he said, had assumed the risk when it insisted on a crash program of nickel production that was not in the company's plans.

Now it is announced that the hearings probably will not be resumed until after the congressional elections in November.

Can anyone imagine the prospectors' shutting down the mine if they felt they were hitting political pay dirt?

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Our Runaway Judiciary

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In Latin America the Army acts as a sort of strong-armed "conscience" to prevent the people from exercising their right to do wrong. In the United States, this function of monitoring and limiting popular sovereignty has been taken over by our Judiciary system.

Let the people of Argentina elect too many Peronistas, and a military junta will step in to render the perfectly legal election null and void. We are apt to regard this supra-Constitutional action of the Armed Forces as a usurpation, and so it is, strictly speaking.

But the U.S. Supreme Court, abetted by some other Federal courts, has done in this country what the Army does in Latin American countries. The American Judiciary, rising above the Constitution, has held that the people must exert their rights of self-rule in a prescribed manner, or not exert them at all.

Acted in Tennessee

This is exactly what the Supreme Court did last March in deciding (Baker vs. Carr) that a Tennessee Court should insist that the Tennessee Legislature reapportion the districts which elect a House and Senate of that State. In noting that the Legislature hadn't conducted a reapportionment since 1901, and that population changes had occurred since then, the Supreme Court agreed with the appellants that urban citizens were less fairly represented than rural citizens. The Court found this situation in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, which guarantees all citizens "equal protection under the law."

But Justice Stewart pointed out in dissent that the Fourteenth Amendment has no application here and that the Supreme Court had gone far outside its Constitutional function. The case under review dealt only with a State legislature. No Federal representation was involved. The Constitution, aside from requiring that States maintain a "republican form of government," nowhere supports the view that State legislatures must be structured to equalize each voter's voice.

"It is surely beyond argument," says Stewart, "... that factors other than bare numbers should be taken into account. The existence of the United States Senate is proof enough of that."

Stewart plead with his brothers of the Court that they practice "self-restraint" and not infringe upon the "freedom of a State to deal with so intimate a concern as the structure of its own legislative branch."

Appeal for Clemency

It is almost as if Justice Stewart were appealing for clemency in a tyrant who had the might to do whatever he willed with his victims. This is surely the fact in Latin America, where only "self-restraint" can prevent the Army from throwing the national legislature out of office. But it may come as a surprise to find our Judiciary asserting dictatorial power over the legislative branch.

This assessment of the Judiciary's usurpation will not seem exaggerated if we read what a Supreme Court decision in the three-judge Federal Court in Florida has said in line with the Supreme Court decision in the Tennessee case. On last August 17th, this Florida Court found inequality of representation in the legislature, and observed that the duty to bring the State into conformity with the U. S. Constitution rested primarily and heavily upon the State. But then the Court added:

"Should the State fail or neglect to perform this obligation... then the less desirable re-apportionment by judicial decree would be required."

No army junta in Latin America ever warned a legislative body more plainly than that: "Do this — or else!"

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

The news these days
Is not all bleak,
You can read much
That's quite unique

The old boy down the street who runs that stand, "Your Home Town Newspaper," must think I'm a traveling salesman. When I first patronized him and asked for an Enquirer, he said he used to live in Cincinnati, nice town. The next time when I bought a Plain Dealer, he said Cleveland was a nice town, too.

But when I asked for the Milwaukee Journal, Miami Herald and New Orleans Picayune, he gave up. Muttered something about a guy who jumped around too much and became suspicious.

But I like to read papers from all around. Want to see how they're doing elsewhere, and besides, you see many strictly local items that don't make the press wires and you'd miss.

LIKE THAT ONE I read the other day from a small town up the coast which detailed the spread of trading stamps. Seems a church there is giving stamps to boost attendance.

I can just see the ushers peering at each contribution and tearing off a stamp for every dime or fraction thereof, chunked into the basket or, if person-to-person, one for every member of the family accounted for.

IMAGINE the scene in the home of a Sunday morning. Junior doesn't want to dress up and go to church that day. He wants to catalogue his tadpole collection.

But Mom insists. All five of us have to go today, she says. "Five more stamps and we'll have ten books and I can get that steam iron I need. Snap into it or I'll paddle you where it hurts most."

AND THINK of the bulletin boards outside announcing the sermon topic: "To Hell with the Supreme Court — Three stamps bonus for every new member today."

You get trading stamps for almost everything except cigarettes, liquor or drugs these days so why not for souls?

ANOTHER one from our own state was about a judge who is going realistic in his traffic violation sentences. He delivered quite a sermon to a woman up before him for goofy driving. But the lady was not impressed.

"Aren't you the eloquent one?" she sneered. "I bet you can recite the Gettysburg speech by heart."

"I sure can," snapped the judge, "and I hereby fine you four score and seven bucks."

THE GIRLS will have more cause to think I'm just an old spoil-sport because of my views on these gosh-awful hair — dos they are now wearing.

The things they did with their own hair I thought bad enough, but now these wigs!

And they poke fun at men who wear toupees.

Anyway, in the "Wooden Barrel," house magazine for the Coopers Industries, I read where a girl, with her hair piled high, passed two men, and one turned to the other and said: "Looks like her reprieve came through just as the warden pulled the switch."

Remember When

September 7, 1952

"The Lady from 29 Palms" made page one of the metropolitan dailies. She pulled a fire alarm box switch in Pasadena thinking it would activate the signal lights and let her cross the street. "We don't have signal lights in 29 Palms," she told police. "I didn't know."

William Dunkerly, chamber of commerce manager urged all local organizations to list their special events scheduled for the coming few months so that he could prepare a calendar and avoid conflicts between events of major importance.

Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann reported that during the summer months his staff had made regular checks on 408 homes of Villagers gone from the city from two weeks to three months.

September 7, 1952

Commissioner Frank Tetley of the State Highway Commission, said that straightening out of the tortuous Jackrabbit Trail was given top priority. It will follow a new straighter more direct route through the Badlands to the county seat. The new road will be a part of U.S. Highway 60 and run generally due westward from Beaumont.

"HEY DOC"Have You Heard the News?

A fella told me that the greatest home buy in the desert is Racquet Club Road Estates. He told me that you can buy one of these three bedroom two bath homes for $21,500 with as little as $1,250 down. He told me to much about it that I had to take a look for myself, and darned if he wasn't right. I sure was surprised to find that the carpets, draperies and landscaping were included, and I also found that I could trade my vacant lot in as part payment, but Doc, HERE'S THE BEST PART OF THE NEWS, the model home they are using now has been sold and they will be moving into a new one in the next few days, the decorating is going to be done by Arthur Elrod and you know what that means, it means that it is bound to be beautiful.

DOC, you are going to miss the best bet in the desert if you don't get to see it. I mean the furnished model at

NEW YORK Yankee catcher Elston Howard slides safely into home plate in the seventh inning on Cleto Boyer's fly to right field at Yankee Stadium Thursday. Throw from outfielder Leon Wagner to catcher Bob Rodgers was high and Skowron also came in to score from second on the error. (UPI Telephoto)

Angels Miscues Lead To Yankees Win, 6-5

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Angels all season have lived by the late-inning rally. Thursday Los Angeles died the same way.

The New York Yankees, certainly the masters when it comes to striking suddenly and late, scored four runs in the seventh inning to overcome a 5-2 disadvantage and edge the Angels, 6-5.

So when Los Angeles moved into Baltimore for tonight's series opener against the Orioles, the Angels were 4½ games behind the first-place New Yorkers, and probably dead as far as the pennant race goes.

It was an especially disheartening defeat for the Angels, who had come from behind to win the second and third games of the four-game series, because they just had gone ahead with three runs in the top of the seventh.

Errors by Leon Wagner and Joe Koppe gave the Yankees their chance, and Angel-killer Tom Tresh lined a two-run single that shot the Yankees into the lead.

Dean Chance, the Angels' top pitcher, needed only nine more outs to pull Los Angeles to within 2½ games of first. But Elston Howard led off the inning with a single and went to third on Bill Skowron's double.

When Cleto Boyer flied to Leon Wagner in right, Howard tagged up and scored. Wagner tried to get him at the plate but overthrew catcher Bob Rodgers, enabling Skowron to score—cutting the lead to 5-4.

Pinch hitter Yogi Berra flied out. Tony Kubek grounded to shortstop Joe Koppe for what should have been the third out, but Koppe threw low to first and Kubek was safe. Bobby Richardson doubled Kubek to third. Relief pitcher Dan Osinski took over for Chance, but Tresh singled, scoring Kubek and Richardson.

New York led 2-0 in the fourth when Lee Thomas of Los Angeles boomed his 23rd homer, and his second in two days against New York. Billy Moran singled home Chance to tie the score in the fifth.

Then the Angels broke loose for three runs, including scoring singles by Wagner and Thomas, but the Yankees came back with their big inning. Jim Coates (7-6) was the winner, and Chance (12-8) the loser.

Eli Grba (7-8) was to pitch for the Angels tonight against Baltimore's Milt Pappas (12-8).

New York won the season series from the Angels 10-8.

STU MILLER HANDCUFFS DODGERS

Giants Win Big One, 9-6

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The fierce competition between the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants is over for 1962 but the memory lingers on for 34,263 fans who Thursday night saw the ancient rivals engage in a memorable struggle.

The Giants emerged victorious by a 9-6 score but the contest was not decided until the final out as the Dodgers loaded the bases in the bottom of the ninth, pushed over one run and then were choked off by veteran reliever Stu Miller with the potential tying run at the plate.

Both managers were proud of their clubs—Alvin Dark in victory and Walter Alton in defeat. It was that kind of a contest.

The victory, however, moved the Giants to 1½ games behind the Dodgers. San Francisco opened the series here Monday 3½ games back. But by taking three out of four they assured that the battle for the pennant would go on. There were heroes on both sides but the most important blow was Harvey Kuenn's double with the bases loaded in the top of the ninth. It came after Orlando Cepeda had forced in a run with a walk to put San Francisco ahead, 6-5, but it scored three runs. And without his hit the Dodgers would have tied up the game in their half of the ninth.

Both Sides Warned
The game was so hard-fought that the umpires warned both managers to caution their pitchers against throwing at opposing batters after starters Don Drysdale and Billy O'Dell engaged in a "brush-back" contest.

The game was noteworthy also for the Dodgers because they set a new National League attendance mark with 11 games remaining on their home schedule. Thursday night's crowd brought the Dodgers' home attendance to 2,287,772, breaking their own record of 2,253,887 set in 1960.

"I was proud of our boys—they didn't quit," Alton said after the loss. "You hate to get beat but you have to feel good about the way this team battled back all night."

"We're still ahead. The Giants still have to catch us. And we almost tied up in the bottom of the ninth. Now that we've gotten over a pitching crisis, we may be in better shape."

Dark said he took more pride in his Giants taking three out of four games in Chavez Ravine stadium than he did when they beat the Dodgers three straight games at Candlestick Park last month.

Dark Brightens
"We faced one of the best competitors in the game today in Drysdale and we had to beat great pitching to win," Dark added. "We're still behind and have to catch up but the outlook is a little brighter now."

The classic battle which ended with a 9-9 record in the Dodgers-Giants competition for the season had the home club at a disadvantage from the first inning.

The Giants struck early, pushing over two runs in the first frame when Felipe Alou drove in one tally and Willie McCovey another. And San Francisco increased its lead to 4-0 in the third when Orlando Cepeda singled in two runs with the bases loaded.

Rams Clash With 49ers In Coliseum

The San Francisco Forty-Niners, who have discarded the shotgun in favor of the long-range missile, will face the Los Angeles Rams in the pre-season finale for both clubs Saturday night at the Coliseum.

Kickoff is scheduled for 8:15 and a crowd of 45,000 is expected.

If the early-season NFL form charts mean anything, the first of 1962's three California pro grid civil wars will be waged mainly in the air, for both clubs have been eminently successful with their passing attacks.

In three of four outings, it has been victory through air power for the Bay City Bombers. The "all-the-way-in-one-play" pass has been decisive.

Typical of the Forty-Niner wins thus far was last Saturday night's 26-7 conquest of Dallas. Held to 14 yards rushing in the first half, San Francisco managed a 7-7 halftime tie on the strength of a 77-yard TD pass play from John Brodie to speedy Jim Johnson.

Biltmore Hotel Photo Contest Slated Sept. 23

The photographic exhibit and camera competition set for Sept. 8 at the Palm Springs Biltmore hotel grounds has been postponed two weeks and will be held on September 23, it was announced today.

The postponement is to allow time for the new camera class to be assembled so that all students will have a chance to enter the competition.

There will be prizes in several categories for entrants and models will be furnished to add interest to the landscape and interior shots (including pretty Nancy Pedley in her Bikini by the recently refurbished Biltmore pool.)

An exhibition of prize winning photographs by local professional photographers will be on display in the lobby of the Biltmore hotel all week to inspire the amateur cameramen.

Judging of the photographs will be done by a panel of experts, including Bob Abbey and Robert Nims of The Desert Sun. Prize winning photographs will be published in the paper.

In order to give the tyro camera men something unusual to photograph there will be a "Twist Contest" in the Garden Room of the Biltmore with Jody Reynolds and The Fish-Off timetable is 2 p.m. twisters.

Bo to Stick With LA

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bo Belinsky won't be toiling for Kansas City next year — and he's equally certain he won't be with the Los Angeles Angels either.

"I'm still a lead-pipe cinch to be traded," the Angels' playboy southpaw said after Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced Thursday that he would void any deal transferring Belinsky to the Kansas City Athletics.

Frick's edict followed an extensive two-day investigation of reports that had Belinsky marked for post-season shipment to the Athletics as part of an earlier deal involving another young pitcher, Dan Osinski.

Belinsky, who pitched a no-hitter on May 5 and later wound up in the Angels doghouse because of his bright-lights escapades, accepted Frick's ruling philosophically.

"The commissioner sure showed me something," the 25-year-old rookie said in the visitors' dressing room at Yankee Stadium after the Angels dropped a crucial 6-5 squeaker to the Yankees. "They say he never acts but he sure did in this case."

"I guess this is pretty rough on Mr. Finley (A's owner Charles O. Finley) not getting me, but I'm sure they'll trade me anyway to some other club."
